Universal Declaration of Human Rights Article #13

(1) Everyone has the right to freedom of movement and residence within the borders of each State; and

(2) Everyone has the right to leave any country, including his own, and to return to his country.

Law of Nations

"Swiss lawyer Emmerich de Vattel (1714–67) agreed that people ‘may quit a society which seems to have dissolved itself in order to unite again under another form; they have the right to retire elsewhere, to sell their lands, and take with them all their effects’ .59 In the Law of Nations, he concluded that ‘a person may quit his country’ because every man is born free; and the son of a citizen, when come to the years of discretion, may examine whether it be convenient for him to join the society for which he was destined by his birth. If he does not find it advantageous to remain in it, he is at liberty to quit it on making it a compensation for what it has done in his favour, and preserving, as far as his new engagements will allow him, the sentiments of love and gratitude he owes it." <https://www.law.unimelb.edu.au/files/dmfile/download63181.pdf>
