Introduction

1. The office of the Treasury for the Government of The United States of America Enforcement Authority (hereinafter “Treasury”).

The Treasury is granted full authority to enforce the “PROPERTY REGISTRATION CODE” (hereinafter "code") on lands and seaward boundaries within the jurisdiction of The United States of America and the Government thereof as defined in the Articles of Confederation, as amended August 5th, 2015 by the National assembly in convention with the United States, in Congress assembled.

The code applies equally to affirmed American Nationals, State Residents and American Nationals within The United States of America that are contracted with this code through various instruments of conveyance, court claims, promissory notes, bills of lading, bills of exchange and other Treasury related instruments. The Treasury has the authority to enforce penalties on any trustee who violates the code. The code is designed as a guide for any of the aforementioned statuses to abide by for the purpose of balance of accounts, transparency, and reporting that pertains to the State of the Union and its value.

Process and Penalties

Foreign Penalties include but not limited to:

- a: Fines
- b. Court Cost
- c. License Suspension
- d. License Revocation
- e. Court Orders
- f. Contempt of Court
- g. Prison Sentences

Process:

PROPERTY REGISTRATION

1: All property, regardless of type may be registered with the Treasury. Treasury is required to accept the registration as an asset on the Treasury ledger for reporting purposes.

Registration means recording with the office of the registrar for the Government of The United States of America (registrar) and published on the Office of Deeds and Recordings website, and or published in the newspaper. The registrar number listed on property recordings shall constitute the Treasury registration number for reference to said instrument.

Property registration does not mean that the owner is quit claiming the property to the Government of The United States of America unless otherwise intended.

Property registration is a central registration process to secure property ownership for the affirmed American Nationals, State Residents and American Nationals within The United States of America and used to report to the National assembly the value of the country.

Penalty:

A: Property is not within the jurisdiction of the Government of The United States of America.

B: The Government of The United States of America is not liable to protect the property not registered.

EVIDENCE OF OWNERSHIP AND TYPES OF INSTRUMENTS

1. Public Promissory Notes.
2. Public or Private Bonds regardless of type.
3. Deeds regardless of type.
4. Vehicle registrations regardless of type.
5. Certificates regardless of type and other forms of ownership (brands, seals, trademarks, patents, entities, businesses, trusts, intangible property rights to public property, etc..)

WHEN IS PROPERTY REGISTERED?

1: Upon conveyance.

2: When the benefit of registration is desired.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

1: The enforcement of the property registration code is governed under the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and such other provisions provided by the United States, in Congress assembled.

2: No part of the property registration code shall be interpreted as to violate the human rights of any trustee contracted therewith wherein common sense shall be the guide of the enforcement thereof.

So declared, accepted and acknowledged by the United States, in Congress assembled on this 15th day of January, 2016
