

Deed of Trust

Irrevocable Common Law Contract for the Purpose Trust herein known as the ROH Trust, herein written as the Trust.

PREAMBLE

WHEREAS, We, Keith Edward Livingway and Sam Germain Betancour de Valencia Halpern, Grantors of the Trust Indenture, do hereby testify, affirm, acknowledge and declare, we are testamentary stewards under the High Blessing and authority of the Most High, fully vested with holding power and right pursuant to the common law of the land, holding all assets herein identified, received, transferred and assigned free and clear of any encumbrances, to be settled in Trust, pursuant to this irrevocable common law contract for the Purpose Trust.

TRUST INDENTURE

BY THE TRUST INDENTURE, all the herein contained provisions, agreements, covenants, procedures, and International Notices and service of process are established, bound, duly recorded, executed and made known to all men by these presents, of the Trust Agreement, whereas,

Section 1

We, Keith Edward Livingway and Sam Germain Betancour deValencia Halpern herein identified as Testamentary stewards under the authority of the Most High, are the makers, grantors and settlor's of the asset known as the rural free delivery routes pursuant to the Trust agreement.

Section 2

Settlor's shall have no further administrative responsibilities or liabilities pertaining to the Trust after the making and execution of this Deed of Trust by Granting/transferring the rural free delivery routes to the general post office to be held in Trust and stored as a bonded warehouse and the purpose of the rural free delivery routes shall be administered by affirmed general post masters for the benefit of the qualified people within this Purpose Trust Agreement.

TRUSTEE

Section 1

We, the Executive Branch, and legislative Branch of the Articles of Confederation, as amended, are hereby appointed Trustee of this Irrevocable Common Law Contract for the Purpose Trust.

Section 2

Trustee shall appoint at least one alternate Trustee immediately to secure the office of Trustee in the event of vacancy or absence for any reason and to stand by in the event the above-named Trustee becomes physically or mentally incapacitated, and may appoint other Trustee (s) as he/she deems expedient through paper ballot election by the qualified people as beneficiaries.

Alternate Trustee shall assist with administering the articles of the Trust in any manner, subject to the wishes of the Trustee. Trustee shall have right to appoint as many alternate Trustees as necessary he/she shall deem worthy to secure the administration of this Deed of Trust.

Section 3

Trustee shall have full powers to administer and exercise all matters related to the Trust. Each Trustee, Assigns and Successors shall exercise the herein enumerated full powers pursuant to the law of this Deed of Trust and shall remain in force and effect without any limitation whatsoever.

Section 4

The Trustee shall during the Trust Period hold the Trust Funds on behalf of the beneficiaries and the income thereof for use and delivery of private messages, packages or any other form of communication of the specified Beneficiaries herein identified as the people for the support and cause of their continued service and security.

Section 5

The Trustee may pay, distribute, or apply the whole or any part of the income, capital, equity, interest, use, assigns of value of whatever nature, to or in any manner which is in their opinion for the benefit of all or any parties and successor assigns pursuant to the General Post Articles and any other express agreement.

Section 6

The Trustee may transfer, assign or convey any part of the asset described as the rural free delivery routes to Independent Holding Trusts, created either by the Trustee, or by qualified people within the following metes and bounds provided the Trustee is satisfied that the transfer is for the benefit of all or any one or more of the, or the continued service, support and cause of their specified Purpose mission.

The metes and bounds for The United States of America are currently made up of the rural free delivery routes abutting Canada to the North, Mexico to the South, the Atlantic Ocean to the east and the Pacific Ocean to the West without land lock, and seaward boundaries 12 miles past the baseline. The rural free delivery routes are classified as easements abutting the judicial districts of the United States or any Grand Lodge claims for the purpose of establishing States as defined:

These facts include effective control over a clearly defined territory and population; an organized governmental administration of that territory; and a capacity to act effectively to conduct foreign relations and to fulfill international obligations.

Furthermore:

1. The Montevideo Convention on the Rights and Duties of States was a treaty signed at Montevideo, Uruguay, on December 26 1933.

The convention set out the definition, rights and duties of statehood. Most well-known is Article 1, which set out four criteria for statehood, as quoted below.

The state as a person of international law should possess the following qualifications:

A: a permanent population;

B: a defined territory;

C: government; and

D: capacity to enter into relations with the other states.

Article 3 of the Convention also declares that statehood is independent of recognition by other states, so a country can exist even if other countries don't recognize it.

2. The Declarative theory of statehood is based on the 4 criteria specified in the Montevideo Convention.

3. The constitutive theory of statehood defines a state or country as a person of international law if, and only if, it is recognized as sovereign by other states. This means that so long as enough other countries recognize you as a country, you ARE a country, even if you don't have control over your territory or a permanent population.

So, you can see that the two definitions allow for different numbers of countries to exist.

Today a common way to define a country is to avoid these two definitions and say that if it's a member of the United Nations, it's a country. However, the Holy See, or Vatican, isn't a member of the United Nations, but it certainly is a country. The United Kingdom is a member of the United Nations, but the countries of England, Scotland and Ireland aren't, so by the UN rule, they aren't countries.

That of course goes against what the UK government states on the Prime Minister's web site, where it declares that " The United Kingdom is made up of four countries: England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland. "

So, if you really want to know how many countries there are, first select the definition you want to use, then allow for where you are and what political views you have, then you have a chance of making an educated guess at the answer!

Section 7

The Purpose Trust shall be in perpetuity with one exception; if any time a deficit greater than the total sum of value of the Trust assets, holdings and funds aggregate, absolute liquidation of all Trust funds and assets shall be commenced and dissolution shall occur at once by the Trustee and the Trust shall cease to exist. Once the Trust no longer exists the rural free delivery routes shall revert back to the original Grantor's Estates to be held until which time the Trust can be re-established and settled. Deficit shall be equally divided for settlement by any and all of the beneficiaries, associated with the Trust after liquidation.

Section 8

Distribution of beneficiary interest held in any Trust Fund account of deposits and monies of whatever nature shall be at the discretion, request and agreement of the designated Beneficiaries herein. 180 ownership of the Title in allodium, Property, Rights, Claim, Interest, Use, Control, and Assignment
181 Rights held by Trust and its assets, and serves to keep the Trust assets and funds private, outside the

NOTICE

Private Declaration of Assets and Letter of Conditions under non-disclosure for the Trustees

Restoration of the general post office letter and Public Notice of compact easement agreement by and between the original general post office, the Universal Postal Union and The United States Postal Service:

For the office of the post master general of The United States of America;

The restoration of the general post office letters to inform you that the original general post office for The United States of America has been restored by claiming the original boundaries for The United States of America that were removed by the Treaty of Oregon in the year eighteen hundred and forty six. Detailed information about the Treaty of Oregon can be obtained at www.countyrangers.org. Furthermore, the boundaries claimed are also attached to this email in the form of a Declaration of Land Patent. If you would like a hard copy of these documents please contact stewards@greatregistrypost.org. In the general post office treaty, posted on www.countyrangers.org, the original rural free delivery routes headed by the office of the post master general of the commercial Post Office Department have been claimed by the general post office, in the name of yahweb, with the intent to establish a private, neutral, non-combatant, non-commercial jurisdiction so as to thwart off constant attacks by the foreign corporations through commercial addresses against private civilians. These constant commercial attacks on private civilians have all but stopped private services, the effects of which are crippling the economic condition of the International United States and The United States of America National Government. We do not believe that the United Postal Union, the United States Postal Service nor the general post office were intended to be used as an economic weapon against private civilians by officers of foreign corporations. According to the United States Postal Service manual, a condition for private, non-commercial, neutral and non-combatant addresses exists:

1: MANAGEMENT OF RURAL DELIVERY SERVICES

Methods Handbook, Series M-38 July 1, 1980

2: on the world wide web:

http://pe.usps.gov/text/pub28/pub28c2_toc.htm

245 Additional Designations

There should be no additional designations, such as town or street names, on the Delivery Address Line of rural route addresses. Because street names used together with route and box numbers can create potential matching difficulty, mailers are encouraged to use only one style of addressing. If secondary name information is used, however, place it above the Delivery Address Line.

The men and women with the original general post office find it difficult to communicate with the chiefs in the United States Postal Service, as we can find no particular form that would not cause us to trespass on the commercial side of the United Postal Union. We do not wish to re-invent the wheel by starting our own deliveries to these private locations. If it is within your power and authority to assist the original general post office in establishing delivery service to our private locations with the United States Postal Service without a trespass on either venue please let us know by e-mail, stewards@greatregistypost.org. A bilateral compact agreement by and between the private original general post office, the public United States Post Office and the international United Postal Union can be achieved through the granting of easements by and between all parties involved to restore all three parties to a respectable and dignified condition. The current format we will use is:

Compact easement summary and Public Notice

The compact easement agreement by and between the original general post office, the Universal Postal Union, also known as the UPU, and The United States Postal Service, also known as the USPS, is a bilateral compact easement agreement wherein one party cannot change the agreement without the consent of the other. The compact easement agreement will serve the purpose of all three involved. The men and women within The United States of America have a private venue to trade in as they see fit without any interference from any other venue. The condition of The United States of America relieves the United States of regulatory burdens and The United States Postal Service will have exclusive easement to deliver private mail which will assist and improve their condition. The Universal Postal Union suffered a misnomer in the original offer, but this has since been corrected. The Universal Postal Union will have increased business worldwide as the relief of the private venue upon the men and women in The United States of America will give them greater buying power which will result in jump starting world commerce. The compact easement agreement is for the delivery of private mail only to the men and women within The United States of America by the United States Postal Service through the general post office. The general post office is an inherent right of the people, meaning all men and women, and is not an exclusive agreement of keith-edward and sam-germain. The general post office is private only. The simple move of embracing the private venue by all parties involved frees the men and women within The United States of America to choose, and serves to end all hostilities by and between the people and the regulatory agencies of the United States by separating the two. The metes, bounds and boundaries of The United States of America separates the United States, The United States of America and the people thereof, living in peace by and between each other.

So posted and agreed upon on the second day in the year of yahweh six-thousand and thirteen.

general post-master, sam-germain

general post-master, keith-edward

The electronic autographs are not to be used on any other document without the express consent of the men keith-edward and sam-germain.

UPDATE NOTICE

The claim as shown above has moved from the flag and seal above to other flags and seals to protect the claim from would be thieves. The compact agreement never manifested itself into reality, however, the claim of the rural free delivery routes remains in tact. As promised by the original claimants, the claim of the rural free delivery routes have been granted to the ROH Trust for the benefit of the beneficiaries which is defined in the ROH Trust documents. The claim of the rural free delivery routes remain in the metes and bounds of The United States of America, the Confederacy of 1781, as amended. The Grantors are hoping that the sacrifices made to preserve the claims to the general post office and the survey of the rural free delivery routes will not be in vain.

Director General of the International Bureau:

It has come to the attention of the office of the Post Master General for The United States of America that according to the archives of the Treaties and Other International Agreements of the United States of America 1776-1949 Compiled under the direction of Charles I. Bevans LL.B. The office of the Post Master General for The United States of America hereby approves the signing of the General Postal Union Treaty of October 9th, 1874 by the authorized Representative.

Furthermore, “For the United States of America: JOSEPH H. BLACKFAN” was not the authorized Representative for The United States of America at the time, although the entities look similar, the entities were not the same.

Due to the new information now presented, the office of the Post Master General for The United States of America does not see where it is required that a vote of the general post office for The United States of America to be admitted into the Universal Postal Union and would not be entirely necessary at this time. If the Director General of the International Bureau disagrees with this conclusion by the office of the Post Master General for The United States of America, please forward those concerns to the authorized Representative or please continue with the voting process of admission of the general post office for The United States of America into the Universal Postal Union. Otherwise, the office of the Post Master General for The United States of America hereby accepts the open invitation to Treaty and hereby remains a party to the General Postal Union of October 9th, 1874, now for then.

The undersigned, plenipotentiaries of the Governments of the countries above enumerated, have by common consent, and subject to ratification, agreed upon the following Convention:

ARTICLE 1

The countries between which the present treaty is concluded shall form, under the title of General Postal Union, a single postal territory for the reciprocal exchange of correspondence between their post-offices.

ARTICLE 2

The stipulations of this treaty shall extend to letters, post-cards, books, newspapers, and other printed papers, patterns of merchandise, and legal and commercial documents originating in one of the countries of the Union and intended for another of those countries. They shall also apply to the exchange by post of the articles above mentioned between the countries of the Union and countries foreign to the Union whenever such exchange takes place over the territory of two at least of the contracting parties.

ARTICLE 3

The general Union rate of postage is fixed at 25 centimes for a single prepaid letter.

Nevertheless, as a measure of conversion, the option is reserved to each country, in order to suit its monetary or other requirements, of levying a rate higher or lower than this charge, provided that it does not exceed 32 centimes or go below 20 centimes.

Every letter which does not exceed 15 grammes in weight shall be considered a single letter. The charge upon letters exceeding that weight shall be a single rate for every 15 grammes or fraction of 15 grammes.

The charge on unpaid letters shall be double the rate levied in the country of destination on prepaid letters.

The prepayment of post-cards is compulsory. The postage to be charged upon them is fixed at one-half of that on paid letters, with power to round off the fractions.

For all conveyance by sea of more than 300 nautical miles within the district of the Union, there may be added to the ordinary postage an additional charge which shall not exceed the half of the general Union rate fixed for a paid letter.

ARTICLE 4

The general Union rate for legal and commercial documents, patterns of merchandise, newspapers, stitched or bound books, pamphlets, music, visiting cards, catalogues, prospectuses, announcements and notices of various kinds, whether printed, engraved, lithographed, or autographed, as well as for photographs, is fixed at 7 centimes for each single packet.

Nevertheless, as a measure of conversion, the option is reserved to each country, in order to suit its monetary or other requirements, of levying a rate higher or lower than this charge, provided that it does not exceed 11 centimes or go below 5 centimes.

Every packet which does not exceed 50 grammes in weight shall be considered a single packet. The charge upon packets exceeding that weight shall be a single rate for every 50 grammes or fraction of 50 grammes.

For all conveyance by sea of more than 300 nautical miles within the district of the Union, there may be added to the ordinary postage an additional charge which shall not exceed the half of the general Union rate fixed for articles of this class.

The maximum weight of the articles mentioned above is fixed at 250 grammes for patterns of merchandise, and at 1000 grammes for all the others.

There is reserved to the Government of each country of the Union the right to refuse to convey over its territory or to deliver articles specified in the present Article with regard to which the laws, orders, and decrees which regulate the conditions of their publication and circulation have not been observed.

ARTICLE 5

The articles specified in Article 2 may be registered.

Every registered packet must be prepaid.

The postage payable on registered articles is the same as that on articles not registered.

The charge to be made for registration and for return receipts must not exceed that made in the interior service of the country of origin.

In case of the loss of a registered article, except in the case of vis major(4), there shall be paid an indemnity of 50 francs to the sender, or, at his request, to the addressee, by the Administration of the country in the territory or in the maritime service of which the loss has occurred-that is to say, where the trace of the article has been lost,-unless, according to the legislation of such country, the Administration is not responsible for the loss of registered articles sent through its interior post.

The payment of this indemnity shall be effected with the least possible delay, and, at the latest, within a year from the date of application.

All claim for an indemnity is excluded if it be not made within one year, counting from the date on which the registered article was posted.

ARTICLE 6

Prepayment of postage on every description of article can be effected only by means of postage-stamps or stamped envelopes valid in the country of origin.

Newspapers and other printed papers unpaid or insufficiently paid shall not be forwarded. Other articles when unpaid or insufficiently paid shall be charged as unpaid letters, after deducting the value of the stamped envelopes or postage-stamps (if any) employed.

ARTICLE 7

No additional postage shall be charged for the re-transmission of postal articles within the interior of the Union.

But in case an article which has only passed through the interior service of one of the countries of the Union should, by being re-directed, enter into the service of another country of the Union, the Administration of the country of destination shall add its interior rate.

ARTICLE 8

Official correspondence relative to the postal service is exempt from postage. With this exception, no franking or reduction of postage is allowed.

ARTICLE 9

Each Administration shall keep the whole of the sums which it collects by virtue of the foregoing Articles 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7. Consequently, there will be no necessity on this head for any accounts between the several Administrations of the Union.

Neither the senders nor the addressees of letters and other postal packets shall be called upon to pay, either in the country of origin or in that of destination, any tax or postal duty other than those contemplated by the Articles above mentioned.

ARTICLE 10

The right of transit is guaranteed throughout the entire territory of the Union.

Consequently, there shall be full and entire liberty of exchange, the several Postal Administrations of the Union being able to send reciprocally, in transit through intermediate countries, closed mails as well as correspondence in open mails, according to the requirements of trade and the exigencies of the postal service.

Closed mails and correspondence sent in open mails must always be forwarded by the most rapid routes at the command of the Postal Administrations concerned.

When several routes offer the same advantages of speed, the despatching Administration shall have the right of choosing the route to be adopted.

It is obligatory to make up closed mails whenever the number of letters and other postal packets is of a nature to hinder the operations of the re-forwarding office, according to the declaration of the Administration interested.

The despatching Office shall pay to the Administration of the territory providing the transit, the sum of 2 francs per kilogramme for letters and 25 centimes per kilogramme for the several articles specified in Article 4, net weight, whether the transit takes place in closed mails or in open mails.

This payment may be increased to 4 francs for letters and to 50 centimes for the articles specified in Article 4, when a transit is provided of more than 750 kilometers in length over the territory of one Administration.

It is understood, however, that in any case in which the transit is already actually gratuitous or subject to lower rates, those conditions shall be maintained.

Whenever a transit shall take place by sea over a distance exceeding 300 nautical miles within the district of the Union, the Administration by or at the expense of which this sea-service is performed shall have the right to a payment of the expenses attending this transport.

The members of the Union engage to reduce those expenses as much as possible. The payment which the Office providing the sea-conveyance may claim on this account from the despatching Office shall not exceed 6 francs 50 centimes per kilogramme for letters, and 50 centimes per kilogramme for the articles specified in Article 4, (net weight.)

In no case shall these expenses be higher than these now paid. Consequently, no payment shall be made upon the postal sea routes on which nothing is paid at the present time.

In order to ascertain the weight of the correspondence forwarded in transit, whether in closed mails or in open mails, there shall be taken, at periods which shall be determined upon by common consent, the statistics of such correspondence during two weeks. Until revised, the result of that labor shall serve as the basis of the accounts of the Administrations between themselves.

Each Office may demand a revision,-

1st. In case of any important modification in the direction of the correspondence;

2d. At the expiration of a year after the date of the last account.

The provisions of the present Article are not applicable to the Indian mail, nor to the mails conveyed across the territory of the United States of America by the railways between New York and San Francisco. Those services shall continue to form the object of special arrangements between the Administrations concerned.

ARTICLE 11

The relations of the countries of the Union with countries foreign to the Union shall be regulated by the separate conventions which now exist or which may be concluded between them.

The rates of postage chargeable for the conveyance beyond the limits of the Union shall be determined by those conventions; they shall be added, in such case, to the Union rate.

In conformity with the stipulations of Article 9, the Union rate shall be apportioned in the following manner:

1st. The despatching Office of the Union shall keep the whole of the Union rate for the prepaid correspondence addressed to foreign countries.

2d. The receiving Office of the Union shall keep the whole of the Union rate for the unpaid correspondence originating in foreign countries.

3d. The Office of the Union which exchanges closed mails with foreign countries shall keep the whole of the Union rate for the paid correspondence originating in foreign countries and for the unpaid correspondence addressed to foreign countries.

In the cases mentioned under the Nos. 1, 2, and 3, the Office which exchanges the mails is not entitled to any payment for transit. In all the other cases the transit rates shall be paid according to the stipulations of Article 10.

ARTICLE 12

The exchange of letters with value declared and of Post Office money orders shall form the subject of ulterior arrangements between the various countries or groups of countries composing the Union.

ARTICLE 13

The Postal Administrations of the various countries composing the Union are competent to draw up, by common consent, in the form of detailed regulations, \(5\) all the measures of order and detail necessary with a view of the execution of the present treaty. It is understood that the stipulations of these detailed regulations may always be modified by the common consent of the Administrations of the Union.

The several Administrations may make amongst themselves the necessary arrangements on the subject of questions which do not concern the Union generally; such as the regulations of exchange at the frontier, the determination of radii in adjacent countries within which a lower rate of postage may be taken, the conditions of the exchange of Post Office money orders and of letters with declared value, etc., etc.

ARTICLE 14

The stipulations of the present treaty do not involve any alteration in the interior postal legislation of any country, nor any restriction of the right of the contracting parties to maintain and to conclude treaties, as well as to maintain and establish more restricted unions with a view to a progressive improvement of postal relations.

ARTICLE 15

There shall be organized, under the name of the International Office of the General Postal Union, a central office, which shall be conducted under the surveillance of a Postal Administration to be chosen by the Congress, and the expenses of which shall be borne by all the Administrations of the contracting States.

This office shall be charged with the duty of collecting, publishing, and distributing information of every kind which concerns the international postal service; of giving, at the request of the parties concerned, an opinion upon questions in dispute; of making known proposals for modifying the detailed regulations; of giving notice of alterations adopted; of facilitating operations relating to international accounts, especially in the cases referred to in Article 10 foregoing; and in general of considering and working out all questions in the interest of the Postal Union.

ARTICLE 16

In case of disagreement between two or more members of the Union as to the interpretation of the present treaty, the question in dispute shall be decided by arbitration. To that end, each of the Administrations concerned shall choose another member of the Union not interested in the affair.

The decision of the arbitrators shall be given by an absolute majority of votes.

In case of an equality of votes the arbitrators shall choose, with the view of settling the difference, another Administration equally disinterested in the question in dispute.

ARTICLE 17

The entry into the Union of countries beyond sea not yet forming part of it, shall be effected on the following conditions:-

1st. They shall make their application to the Administration charged with the management of the International Office of the Union.

2d. They shall submit to the stipulations of the treaty of the Union, subject to an ulterior understanding on the subject of the cost of sea conveyance.

3d. Their adhesion to the Union must be preceded by an understanding between the Administrations having postal conventions or direct relations with them.

4th. In order to bring about this understanding, the managing Administration shall convene, if there be occasion, a meeting of the Administrations interested, and of the Administration desiring admission.

5th. When the understanding has been arrived at, the managing Administration shall give notice of the same to all the members of the General Postal Union.

6th. If in a period of six weeks, counting from the date of that communication, no objections are presented, the adhesion shall be considered as accomplished, and notice thereof shall be given by the managing Administration to the Administration joining the Union. The definitive adhesion shall be completed by a diplomatic act between the Government of the managing Administration and the Government of the Administration admitted into the Union.

ARTICLE 18

Every three years at least, a Congress of plenipotentiaries of the countries participating in the treaty shall be held with a view of perfecting the system of the Union, of introducing into it improvements found necessary, and of discussing common affairs.

Each country has one vote.

Each country may be represented either by one or several delegates, or by the delegation of another country.

Nevertheless, it is understood that the delegate or delegates of one country can be charged with the representation of two countries only, including the one they represent.

The next meeting shall take place at Paris, in 1877.

Nevertheless, this meeting may be held sooner, if a request to that effect be made by one-third at least of the members of the Union.

ARTICLE 19

The present treaty shall come into force on the 1st of July, 1875.

It is concluded for three years from that date. When that term shall have passed, it shall be considered as indefinitely prolonged, but each contracting party shall have the right to withdraw from the Union on giving notice one year in advance.

ARTICLE 20

After the date on which the present treaty comes into effect, all the stipulations of the special treaties concluded between the various countries and Administrations, in so far as they may be at variance with the terms of the present treaty, and without prejudice to the stipulations of Article 14, are abrogated.

The present treaty shall be ratified as soon as possible, and, at the latest, three months previous to the date on which it is to come into force. The acts of ratification shall be exchanged at Berne. \(6\)

In faith of which the plenipotentiaries of the Governments of the countries above enumerated have signed it at Berne, the 9th of October, 1874.

In case the French Government, which has reserved to itself the open protocol, and which appears in consequence in the number of the contracting parties to the treaty without having yet given to it its adherence, should decide not to sign it, (7) this treaty shall be no less definitive and obligatory for all the other contracting parties whose representatives have signed it to-day.

In faith of which the undersigned plenipotentiaries have prepared the present final protocol, which shall have the same force and value as if the provisions it contains were inserted in the treaty itself, and they have signed one copy of it, which shall remain in the archives of the Government of the Swiss Confederation, and a copy of which shall be given to each party.
